will give you a view of the shear itself. Now note how it is made. The blanks are hand forged from crucible steel, the same kind of steel that is used in making a woodman's axe. Onto the blades of these forged crucible steel blanks is electrically welded a vanadium steel, which makes the keenest cutting shear blades manufactured. Vanadium steel is electrically welded onto the blades, because it is a special steel that takes a high temper. It is used exclusively in making high grade razors. Five hundred operations are required to finish this shear. It is made right. It must be right, because the handle will be used as a tack hammer and the blades as a wire cutter. The very fact that this shear can be used for these purposes is proof conclusive that it is made of highest quality materials.

A Wonderful Bargain

Any pair of shears made so good that their handle can be used as a tack hammer, and the blades as a wire cutter, without fear of injuring them for use as a shear, are easily worth $1.50 if they served no other purpose than that of a pair of shears, but here is a combination shear worth $1.50 itself as a shear, that has $2.35 worth of other useful tools contained in it—$3.85 worth of tools in all—certainly a wonderful bargain at $1.50. Handy, useful, durable—guaranteed a lifetime.

Subjoined is today's official report of the condition of the city water, in connection with which the city water works and sewerage board authorities the following statement:

The combatting of typhoid fever may be divided into two stages, first, getting rid of the typhoid due to a polluted water supply, and second, combatting the so-called residual or contact fever. Many cities have not progressed as far as the first stage—that of providing a pure water supply.

Following is today's test for fever and other germs as made by Perkins Boynton.
